William Cella

Honors Finance and Accounting student at West Virginia University Structured Products Intern at VRC
Morgantown, West Virginia, United States

Summary

I am an Honors student at West Virginia University pursuing a B.S. in Business Administration with a major in Accounting and a minor in Finance, driven by a strong interest in valuation, financial analysis, and strategic problem-solving. With a 4.00 GPA and hands-on exposure to financial modeling, market valuation, and risk assessment, I am building a foundation to launch a career in finance, consulting, or related analytical roles.

My experience spans both client-facing and analytical environments. I've developed strong communication, teamwork, and operational skills through many jobs growing up in hospitality, while my participation in Valuation Research Company's intensive workshop strengthened my technical abilities in DCF modeling, WACC analysis, and enterprise valuation. Additional exposure through the WesBanco externship deepened my understanding of commercial banking, credit evaluation, and negotiation strategy.

I bring proven leadership and financial management experience as Co-Founder and Vice President of the Mountaineers Consulting Club and Treasurer of Pi Kappa Alpha, where I oversee a $180,000 annual budget, maintain financial records, and lead organizational decision-making. My community involvement is also something I am very proud of, supporting veterans through VAMC, coaching youth wrestling speaks for my commitment to my community and mentorship. I have also recently become the Development Coordinator for Camp Kesem at West Virginia University where I am in charge of leading a team to raise $40,000 for kids that have parents with cancer.

I am seeking opportunities in valuation, corporate finance, consulting, investment banking, Private Equity or financial analysis, where I can apply my analytical skill set, leadership experience, and strong work ethic while continuing to build my skills in a teamwork-based environment.
